

Ingus Terbets

17 Cranadillon, Virginia, Co. Cavan | 089 454 7028 | ingus.terbets@gmail.com
<https://github.com/ingus-t> | www.linkedin.com/in/ingus-terbets

Work experience

Freelance web developer, 2016 – present.

Part time lecturer – Liepaja University, 2015, teaching course “Databases”.

Programmer, Exigen Services Latvia, 2012 – 2015.

- Open Transport Net. Android GIS app development, architecture design, prototyping.
- E-consultations - government e-service that makes sending applications to all government institutions possible. I was responsible for Sitecore CMS build procedure development, writing C#/CSS/JS, requirement analysis, writing technical documentation, being a team lead.

Freelance web developer, 2010 – 2012, small scale web project and module development, using SQL databases, PHP, JS and different frameworks/CMS.

Education

Master's degree in Information Technology, Liepaja University, 2013 – 2018
Bachelor's degree in Computer Science, Liepaja University, 2009 – 2012

Achievements

Secure and private AI scholarship by Facebook, 2019

Exigen Services Latvia scholarship of excellence, 2014

ERAF scholarship of excellence, 2014

Courses

Java SE 7 Programming
ASP.NET MVC 4 web app development

Languages

English – fluent	Russian – fluent
Latvian – native	German – basic

Personal projects

AMAdillo - Slack App, built in Node.js for the Udacity Slack App challenge. Provides search in a dataset of 1300 questions.

Technical skills

Web application development, troubleshooting, identifying technical solutions for a wide range of software problems. Good knowledge of office software (MS Office and open source alternatives).

Experience of providing support for people using different software and e-commerce solutions.

2019.08.08